Mr. Ross Youngs spent last weekend in Edmonton visiting at the home of his sister, Mrs. Lepard.

Gordon McNaughton spent several days in the hospital last week suffering from measles and bronchial pneumonia. We're glad he is home again and recuperating nicely. Measles continue to spread in the district.

Miss Mollie Kershaw of Calgary visited over the week end at the home of her sister, Mrs. Enil Krebs.

Watson Youngs returned to Edmonton Sunday to resume his studies after spending a couple of weeks at his parent's home.

Allan Chandler left Saturday for Athabasca where he has a position doing drafting work for a surveying company. Allan is really seeing the world while he can.

There will be a whist drive at the Chandler home on Monday, April 4. Proceeds for the Melvin W.L.

JIM CAITHNESS OBSERVES 20TH YEAR AS TRUCKER

On Friday, April 1, Jim Caithness, proprietor of Caithness Carriage, completes 20 years of daily trucking service from Didsbury to Calgary and return. Mr. Caithness started in the carriage business on April 1, 1929 with a 1 1/2 ton Ford truck with single tires on the rear wheels, and at present has two trucks on the road. He has served Didsbury town with a continuous and reliable service in the past 20 years, only missing regular daily trips when travelling bans were placed on the main highway and the odd time when severe blizzards made travel of any kind impossible.

Rugby Pupils Make Tour of Calgary Business Firms

Mrs. E. Leclair and her eighteen pupils of the Rugby school spent Friday, March 25, in Calgary where they were taken in five cars by some of the parents.
The party of thirty met at the Burns Packing Plant at 10.30 a.m. and were shown through the building by one of the 500 employees. After a most interesting one and one-half hours of observing and having everything thoroughly explained, each of the party was treated to a weiner and ice cream. After having dinner at the White Lunch the party resumed its sight-seeing at the McGavin Bakery at 1.45 p.m., when they saw the modern ways of mixing, baking and wrapping bread. These were only some of the sights very much enjoyed by all, and upon leaving at 2.30 o'clock everyone received a doughnut.

The party then journeyed to the Calgary Herald Building and was very interesting to see the different steps taken in printing the newspaper.

The day was brought to a very pleasant close by all attending JCFN's half-hour amateur program at 5 p.m.

MILK NOW RETAILS AT 17c

Effective Friday, April 1, the price of milk in Didsbury will be advanced one cent per quart for local delivery, and milk here will now sell at 17 cents, according to an announcement in this week's "Pioneer."

Milk in Calgary was advanced in price to 18 cents per quart, but at Olds the price per quart is the same as in Didsbury, 17 cents.

Son of Mr. And Mrs. A. Wall Dies

Requiem Mass was celebrated in St. Mary's Cathedral, Calgary, Tuesday, March 29 at 10.30 a.m. for Francis Edward Wall, 17-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert F. Wall, formerly of Didsbury and now of Nordegg, who died in a Calgary hospital Sunday after a brief illness.

Burial followed in St. Mary's cemetery.

Besides his parents the young lad is survived by his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. W. McCulloch of Didsbury and Mrs. E. McMullen of Nordegg.

Town Buys More Fire Equipment

Additional equipment has been added to the town fire department, and this week a rubber-tired wagon, together with another 500 gallon water tank was purchased. A connection will be welded on to this tank to enable the booster pump to be attached in case of fire.

Other equipment added was 700 feet of 2 1/2-inch fire hose, and with the 300 feet of 1 1/2-inch hose purchased recently, together with two "mystery" nozzles, the Didsbury fire department will be able to give better service.

The above equipment will all be necessary under the hydrant system to be provided by waterworks and when modern facilities are available for fire fighting taxpayers can look forward to lower insurance rates.

NEW DRUG CURES TSETSE FLY SCOURGE

The discovery of Antrycure, new Imperial Chemical Industries drug which protects animals from the attacks of Tsetse fly, will open up some 1,000,000 square miles of East and West Africa for the raising of cattle. The pest is still encroaching over vast areas of Uganda, Kenya, the Sudan and Nigeria. Not only cattle rearing has been impossible in affected areas, but agricultural production as a whole has suffered. Picture shows the injecting of cattle. Antrycure injections both cure and give protection from the tsetse-borne diseases.

MR. AND MRS. A.L. McINNIS OBSERVE 47TH ANNIVERSARY

An afternoon party in commemoration of the 47th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. A.L. McInnis was held at the Didsbury hospital on Thursday, March 24. Friends, relatives and members of the nursing staff gathered together in Mrs. McInnis' room to wish her and her husband many more years of happy married life. A delicious tea was served and thoroughly enjoyed by all.
Mrs. McInnis has been a patient in the Didsbury hospital since an accident early in January, when she slipped on the icy street and fractured her hip.

Damages Sought For Road Crash

George Wilkins and Barbara Miller, Didsbury, Friday filed statement of claim in supreme court for a total of $3,712.96 damages against F.P. Hussey, Calgary, arising out of a car collision.

The statement of claim, issued by Emery, Foxworthy and McMillan, alleges that Wilkins, a milk delivery man, was driving his car along No. 2 highway Dec. 2, 1948, with Miss Miller, a waitress, as passenger, and when about five miles north of Carstairs, a truck driven by Hussey on wrong side of the road collided with the car, head-on.

Wilkins suffered deep cuts in the right temple and knee, and bruises to the ribs, while Miss Miller received injuries to the nose and forehead leaving disfiguring scars, and two cracked ribs.

Wilkins claims special damage of $1,166.26, including the cost of paying another man to do his rounds for two months, and general damages of $1,000. Miller asks special damages of $76.70, and general damages of $1,500.—The Albertan

DANNEWALD'S CAR BURNS

Last Wednesday night R. Dannewald's 1936 Chev coupe caught fire and a half mile southeast of town when the engine backfired through the carburetor. The interior or the car was burned as well as some of the body paint.

Sale of Butter-Color Margarine Prohibited in Alta.

Margarine to be sold in Alberta after May 1, 1949, won't look like butter. This is the result of an amendment which became part of Alberta's margarine control legislation in the provincial legislature last week.

In accordance with suggestions made to the committee on agriculture by R.C. Marler, president of the Alberta Federation of Agriculture, the Alberta government made a ruling that:

"No person shall offer for sale, sell, have in his possession for sale, within the province any margarine colored the natural color of butter or any shade of yellow that might cause it to be mistaken for butter."

The agricultural minister, Hon. David Ure, however, pointed out that there was no objection to the

Erven Rodney Narrowly Escapes Death by Drowning

Three employees of the B.C. Peat Plant had a narrow escape from drowning recently when they were returning home from night shift. They were trapped in a night canoe, which sidled into the ditch and turned over on its side.

The men, John Macaulay, Erven Rodney, and Percy Paine, had just left work and were on the Tasier Road when the car, Mr. Macaulay driving, going near the edge, supposedly hit a soft shoulder and slipped sideways. The driver was unable to stop the skid, but fortunately the car overturned without hitting any obstacle or breaking any glass.

Though all somewhat stunned, the three men got the window open, and with water pouring in, clambered out. They were helped out by the other employees who had followed in the company truck.

Thoroughly soaked, they were partly dried off, wrapped in borrowed coats and taken to their homes. The submerged car was afterwards raised from the ditch—Lammer Optimist.

Bancroft Girls' Club Holds Meeting

The Bancroft Buttercup Girls' club held its monthly meeting at the home of McNeen girls on March 26. The meeting opened by singing "When Irish Eyes are Smiling" and saying the code Roll call was answered and 21 members were present.

Two new members joined the club, Lenore and Viola Schmirkl.

The program was prepared by Dolores McNeen and Jeanie Stewart and consisted of two raffles and two contests, one for Junior class and the other for senior class. The raffles were won by Annie McCulloch in the Junior group, and by Lois Shells in the senior group. The contests were won by Gloria Balch in the Junior group, and Eileen Neumiller in the senior group.

It was decided to hold the next meeting at the home of Lola Press.

The meeting closed by singing "God Save the King" and lunch was served.

MARY GYNN

Who is often heard from Winnipeg in recitals and soloist with Jimmy Gowler and the orchestra on Prairie Schooner. Her specialty is Scottish folk-songs.

WESTCOTT TEACHER, PUPILS ENTERTAIN

On Thursday evening of last week the Westcott teacher, Mrs. A. Kenschuh, and pupils, held a whist party in the school, and despite the road conditions there were enough in attendance for seven tables. Mr. Herman Dageforde was the high scorer of the men and Miss Gladys McDonald of the ladies. Consolations were won by Miss Dorothy McDonald and Mr. Delbert Kimmel.

Roads are drying up nicely out this way and with everyone co-operating about the road ban, it shouldn't be too long before the roads are in fair condition.

Westcott bridge received a new plankling job on Monday. It had been badly in need of the new floor for a long time.

Mrs. John Jacobsen returned on Saturday last after having spent the last three months in Iowa, U.S.A., visiting with her aged mother and other relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Ted Topping spent Tuesday of last week in Calgary.

The Scout Troop held another meeting Saturday evening last, and we understand that Donald Kenschuh is the new secretary.

Those Westcott folks who attended the Rugby dance last Friday night thoroughly enjoyed themselves.

WEST NOTES

The Rugby W.A. met at the home of Mrs. D. Hoesegood on Thursday, March 17, with Mrs. McMullen, the president, in the chair. The Rev. Musson of Olds was present and Mrs. Wenger gave an interesting paper on China. A quilt was basted, ready to be quilted on the sewing machine, and when finished it is to be sent to an Indian school in the north. Mrs. McMullen gave a report on the Calgary meeting. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. D. Hoesegood on Thursday, April 21.

The Rugby W.I. held a whist drive at the home of Mrs. A. Vipond on Tuesday, March 22, when eight tables were played. Honors went to Mrs. A.L. Hogg and Mr. Allen Krebs, and consolation to Mrs. Alfred Cowitz and Leonard Cowitz. Mrs. A.L. Hogg won the travelling prize.

The next W.I. meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Ira Scott on Thursday, April 7, and if the road from Baumgartner's corner west is not good the members will be met by a rubber tired wagon. We hope all members will make a special effort to attend.

The Rugby school children, accompanied by their teacher, Mrs. Leslie, and parents, spent last Friday in Calgary. The children sang "Home on the Range" over the radio at the amateur hour on CFCN. Marlene Vipond sang a solo, Linda and Marion Hoesegood sang a duet, and Lillian Hoesegood "Happy Birthday" to her Aunt Audrey in Lethbridge. Others said "hello" to folks at home.

Mr. H. Papke had the misfortune to crack a bone in his wrist on Monday when some logs rolled on him, and he now has it in a cast.

Mrs. M. Campbell Jr. visited with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Lowrie, on Sunday.

Mrs. C. Gibbs is still a patient in the Didsbury hospital and we hope she will soon be able to be out and about.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

The Editor, Didsbury Pioneer.

Dear Sir:

Arising out of the meeting at the Melvin hall on March 23, re Rural Electrification, "to be or not to be," some facts were made evident.

Most people want to use electricity if within their means, and rightly so. Progressive farmers the world over are using it, and more will do so if it becomes available.

The obstacle here seems to be capital cost of building the line, which must be paid for by the farmers. Part of this may be offset by labour in digging holes, for poles and hauling material, boarding construction crew when in the district. This may amount to $100 per subscriber, or more, when doing other's share of the construction work.

The construction is completed by a line building crew at actual cost of labour and material.

Differences in estimates of final cost to the farmers have varied but little from these factors, which are only affected by the market value from day to day. The average mileage between prospective members has been increasing as one after another fell out. That is where the trouble is, and if the original number had been maintained or slightly increased, the estimate of $800 per member would have been ample and still may be.

Here is still a chance for true co-operation, in each helping to bring down the cost of a project which will be of material benefit to all. The monthly cost for maintenance and depreciation is as low as can be made with safety and the cost of light and power units much less than we are paying through other channels.

After installation the convenience and adaptability will cause one to wonder why we didn't have it before.

The alternative to this at present seems that small groups near to existing facilities will look after themselves and the project will be cut up piecemeal, leaving some too far away to hook up economically.

The directors have done a good preliminary job. Make them glad now, and yourself satisfied afterwards by "just doing it" making up the number. Financing can be done for those who cannot undertake the whole on quite extended terms and low interest rate.

BURNSIDE NOTES

Sam Elliott is on the sick list and under doctor's care.

Mr. and Mrs. M.S. Page are attending the horse show in Calgary this week.

Scotty Grant has returned to the Yukon after spending the winter months at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter McCulloch.

Bud Richardson, who underwent an appendix operation in the Didsbury hospital ten days ago, is now back home and feeling fine.

Dave Hughes, Roland Ahlgrim, Charles Mardon Jr. and Mrs. Mardon were all visitors at the home of Mr. Sam McAllister and Mrs. Birdall on Sunday.

We are pleased to report that Mrs. William Bruce, who is a patient in the Didsbury hospital, is progressing favorably.

Mr. Enoch Hughes has purchased the property east of Payne-Freeman garage from Mr. A. Brown.

We can't say whether spring is here or not. No crows or poplars have been seen in the district, but Lone Pine Creek is running—if that means anything. We don't imagine there will be need of a road ban east of town as roads are already dry as powder and passing traffic kicks up clouds of dust. We could do with some rain.

Residents of the Burnside district extend their deepest sympathy to Mr. and Mrs. "Happy" Wall of Nordegg on the death of their little son, Francis Edward, who passed away in Calgary on Sunday, March 27.

Dominion Budget Reveals Higher Exemptions For All

Seven hundred and fifty thousand Canadians were removed from income tax rolls in the budget brought down in the House of Commons Tuesday night by Hon. Douglas Abbott, Minister of Finance.

The budget, the most welcome in Canadian history, reduced the Canadian tax bill by nearly $370,000,000. In more understandable terms, the Minister of Finance cut the taxes of every man, woman and child in Canada by almost $30.

The most striking reductions were in personal income taxes which were cut by nearly one-third. This has been achieved, Mr. Abbott explained, by increasing exemptions for single persons from $750 to $1,000 and married people from $1,500 to $2,000. In addition the rates of taxation have been reduced so that not only will there be fewer taxpayers but those who will pay taxes will be paying less. Both reductions are effective as of January 1, 1949.

Exemptions for children under 16 are raised from $100 to $150. Exemptions for other dependents are raised from $300.00 to $400.00. Here are some illustrations of the income tax reductions brought about by the Liberal Government's budgets:

A single person earning $2500 will have his tax cut from $320 to $235; a single person earning $5,000 will have his taxes reduced from $855 to $700; if he earns $10,000 the cut will be from $2,253 to $1,960.

Taxes payable by a married person without dependents at the same three levels will come down from $170 to $75; from $670 to $510, and from $1,900 to $1,660.

In the case of married persons, with two dependents, the tax will drop in the same income groups, from $170 to $30; from $650 to $453, and from $1,830 to $1,582.

Mr. Abbott pointed out that Canadians who have been paying 1949 taxes by the payroll deduction method and who have been eliminated from the tax rolls as a consequence of the new budget will receive refunds. In dollar terms, taxpayers in all brackets will be benefitted but the effect is most marked in the lower income groups.

Of special interest to teen-agers was the statement of the Finance Minister that special taxes on soft drinks, candy and chewing gum had been removed. This was interpreted as meaning that there was a fair chance that these products may soon sell for five cents again. The fifteen per cent tax on all travel tickets has been dropped as have the extra taxes on long distance telephone calls, telegrams and cables.

Canadians women will be heartened at the news that the twenty-five per cent tax on jewelry, cosmetics and toilet preparations is reduced to ten per cent and that thirty-five per cent tax on luggage, handbags and similar articles is also down to ten per cent. Mr. Abbott said that pens and pencils, which have been taxed thirty-five per cent, will henceforth be subject to a levy of only ten per cent. A further compensating factor is that, in the future, these taxes will be paid on the manufacturers' price instead of on the retail price as has been the practice in the past.

Two items which are not subject to tax reductions are liquor and tobacco.

Other budget highlights: further 3-year extension on allowances granted on oil, mineral and gas exploration companies, that is up to and including 1952; 3-year tax exemption for certain metal and industrial mineral mines; no tariff changes at present; encouragement of British trade with Canada, "we must buy more from our customers if we are to sell more"—up to the British to take advantage of opportunities in Canada; without tax changes there would be an estimated surplus of $323 millions in the coming fiscal year; tax reductions reduce this surplus to $87 millions.

Mr. Abbott summarized the financial record of the Liberal Government during the life of this present Parliament as follows:

In October 1945 we provided tax reductions of $300 million a year.

In June 1946 we provided tax reductions of $206 million a year.

In April 1947 we provided tax reductions of $265 million a year.

In the 1947-48 session we provided tax reductions of $82 million a year.

And now in March, 1949, we are providing tax reductions of $369 million a year.

In these five successive budgets we have made tax reductions of nearly $1,300 million a year.

During the past year we have reduced our net debt by $1,625 million.

During the life of this parliament we have extended social security, improved our health services, and have provided training, re-establishment credits and other benefits to our ex-servicemen on a scale more generous than that of any other country. We have greatly expanded our activities in research, exploration and surveys. And throughout the last four years the increase in employment, in wages, in farm incomes, and in general prosperity has never faltered. I know of no country in the world which can show a better record, or in which I would rather live.

Mr. Abbott's third budget will go down in history as "the little man's budget," bringing benefits to every family in Canada.

FLOOD OF TOURISTS BOOKLETS OUT SOON

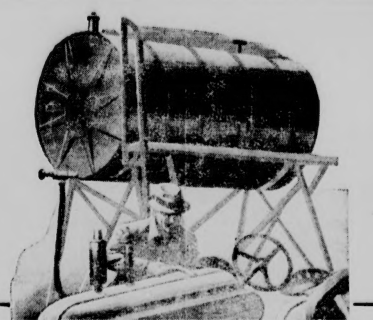

Improved services to facilitate the tourist movement in Alberta this year are being considered by branches of the Alberta Motor Association and other organizations.

Plans were announced lately of improvements to auto camps in some towns in view of the increased flow of tourists expected this year.

One new plan is a teletype service that would link Edmonton with Calgary and Lethbridge, Banff and possibly Jasper, to give the latest available information or tourist accommodations.

Numerous tourist folders and pamphlets also will be available this year. In addition to 125,000 strip or sectional road maps which will be issued by the Alberta Motor Association.

The provincial travel bureau also is expected to make a heavy issue of tourist materials. This will include 100,000 16-page illustrated tourist booklets, 50,000 tourist information booklets, and 50,000 revised provincial highway maps.

A Farm Storage Tank Doesn't "Cost" IT PAYS!

A farm storage tank permits you to buy and store enough fuel at one time to be sure of having a supply on hand when you need it. No costly delays when tractors stand idle, waiting for fuel to be delivered.

It helps to keep fuel clean and avoid plugging of fuel lines and carburetors with grit, dust or water. The tank can be mounted with enough slant to cause any impurities to settle away from the outlet.

It saves time in re-fueling tractors and trucks, if the tank is mounted overhead. Gravity flow is quicker than pumping or pouring. It prevents the spillage of the pump-and-pail method... or the wastage of the "last gallon" that is often left in the bottom of each barrel.

A farm storage tank pays in added safety, because it can be located well away from house, barn or sheds.

Tanks come in three sizes. The price is reasonable. See your Imperial Oil Agent.

CASTLE TO DAM

A Perthshire castle, built at fabulous cost some 123 years ago, but never occupied or completed, will provide 200,000 tons of stone for the construction of a dam in Scotland's big Tummel-Garry hydro electric power scheme. Murthly Castle has been a white elephant since its owner died trying to humble the pride of neighbouring lairds with a building that could outshine their homes with its Tudor facade and seven pagoda turrets. With his death, work stopped and the castle—complete with banquet hall, ballroom, and grand staircase—was never floored or fitted with windows. The castle which had stood so long was brought down in a week. Explosives had to be used to reduce its massive walls in which 6,000 shot-holes were drilled.

Thunder is caused by a discharge of electricity from one cloud to another or from a cloud to the ground.

Didsbury Fire Jan. 1, 1914

(By L.S. Curtis)

Mr. Curtis is a former Didsbury resident now living in Dauphin, Manitoba.

Jan. 1, 1914, my wife and I were living in Didsbury in rooms over my store, situated on the corner of Main St. and Peterson Ave., opposite the Union Bank. Like most of the other people in town, we had stayed up to see the New Year in, so of course we didn't get to bed until after 1 a.m. At 4 a.m. we were rudely awakened by shouts of "fire" and a heavy pounding on the side-street door leading to our apartment.

The weather was cold, 25 below zero or more, and I had built up good fires in the stoves down stairs before turning in. So on hearing the cry of "fire" I naturally thought it was our own building. I rushed for the stairs. There was no sign or smell of fire, but I went through the store and kitchen to make sure. I found everything all right, then unlocked the side door where the pounding was still going on.

It was everybody's friend, big good-natured Alf the cockney, who told me: "The furniture store's on fire." He rushed off to rouse others, while I hurried upstairs to don my clothes. My wife who was already up and partly dressed, took the news coolly and went on with her dressing. I told her to pack up as much as possible into the trunks, we might have to get out in a hurry, then went to the fire.

I got there at the same time as the men with our only fire engine, a chemical engine. The fire already had a good start, fanned by a strong northeast wind. The rear of the store, where the fire had apparently broken out, was a mass of roaring flames. The chemical engine was soon in action, but had about as much effect as a kid's squirt-gun. The main building was now burning fiercely, and in a few minutes spread to the buildings on either side. A bucket line was formed, leading from the nearest well at Mr. Peterson's but the heat was so terrific that we couldn't get close enough to the fire to do any good. So this as well as the chemical engine had to be abandoned as useless.

At that time, the main business of Didsbury, from my store on the north to Harry Atkin's farm machinery on the south, was composed of two solid blocks of frame buildings on the west side of main street, running north and south, and facing the C.P.R. right of way. Opposite the C.P.R. depot, these two blocks were divided by a side street running west for a block, and built up closely on both sides.

On this cross street was located the Post Office, the Golden West Hotel, the Printing Office, the Pool Room, the Barber Shop, Blacksmith Shop, and big Livery Barn. The furniture store, where the fire started, was in the center of the north block, in which among others, were located my store, Smith's Hardware, George Sexsmith's Office and Alf Studer's General Store on the south corner. Across the street from Studer's was the McClary Hotel, J.V. Borsch's Clothing Store, Bill Liesemer's Hardware, Chamber's Drug Store, a Chinese Restaurant, and Stark's Fuel and Feed Store.

The town officials, seeing we could do nothing to put out the fire, or stop it spreading, called the Calgary Fire Dept. and asked the C.P.R. for a special train to bring the department to Didsbury. Attracted by the blaze, people from the country nearby joined the men of the town, who had already been formed into salvage gangs, and helped to get as much stuff as possible out of the building not yet ablaze.

As the fire spread swiftly to the south with a strong wind behind it, more slowly but surely to the north as well, there was no panic. Natural leaders appeared and the salvage work went ahead in an orderly manner. Thousands of dollars worth of goods were saved from many stores and offices in the north block. They even got out a big heavy soda fountain and glass show cases from my place entirely undamaged, while our trunks and bed from upstairs was with my stuff, safe and sound in the back of the Union Bank. Nothing could be done with Smith's Hardware, to which the fire had quickly spread. It was a source of danger, too, as the fire soon reached the stock of ammunition and gunpowder, drums of coal oil and gasoline. Explosions were frequent, and everybody ordered back a safe distance.

As the fire raged south in the north, we had hopes that when it reached Studer's store and the cross street, it would end there, or the Calgary Brigade would arrive in time to prevent its spreading any further. Studer's building was two stories high and extended back the full length of the block, only the narrow lane separated from the Golden West Hotel.

The fire had increased and the fire reached Studer's which was soon a raging inferno. Sparks and even chunks of burning wood were carried by the wind 50 and 100 yards into the south block, roofs here and there could be seen smoldering. At the same time the blaze swept west to the lane and crossed it, setting the Golden West Hotel ablaze and endangering other buildings on the cross street.

At this juncture the special train arrived from Calgary, consisting of a stock car with the horses, two or three flat cars on which were loaded the engine and other equipment, a passenger car for the men and a caboose.

Planks were secured from a lumber yard and laid between the rails to form a crossing over the tracks, saving at least a quarter of a mile drive around, by this time the other hotel was burning and the livery stable behind it was smoldering. But hopes were high as the Calgary Fire Brigade went efficiently into action, stringing their hose to reach the open well on the outskirts of the town.

These hopes were soon dashed when it was realized that the hose was not long enough.

Now the fire had a good hold in the south block. Buildings on both sides of the short cross street were burning fiercely and the whole business district was doomed. If the wind would suddenly change, the residential district to the north-west would be in danger, too.

CHIEF TOOK CHARGE
The Calgary Fire Chief took charge. He used his experienced men to the best advantage by placing them in charge of salvage gangs, and groups set to watch for fire breaking out across the lanes to the west, and locating adjacent wells and supplies of pails for bucket brigades if necessary. The railway right of way east of Main St. was littered with goods salvaged from stores in both blocks and the chief set watchmen to prevent pilfering.

By 9 a.m. that morning the fire had wiped out the south block also, but the residential part was still untouched and safe. There was a great heat from the still burning ruins, and the wind was dropping, but a close watch would be required until the fire finally burned itself out. There being nothing more they could do to help us, the Calgary Fire Brigade reloaded its equipment and returned to Calgary.

As soon as I saw that the chemical engine and bucket line were useless in the furniture-store fire, I rushed back to my place to find my wife and help supervise the removal of as much as possible of our personal belongings, stock and fixtures from the store. The wind was in our favour, but the heat of the fire was so great that in a very short time our store, too, was ablaze. In consequence, though a lot of stuff was saved, my loss was heavy. It was quite an experience for the wife and I to sit on our trunks behind the Union Bank, and watch the fire destroy what had once been a prospering business. Something that we will never forget.

The financial loss of the business men must have been, at the very least, a million dollars.

Practically all carried fire insurance, but few, if any had sufficient coverage. The rate charged per $1000 was $57 (no doubt on account of our poor fire protection) and was practically prohibited for proper insurance coverage. Therefore the actual loss was extremely high. In my own particular case, I had rented, not owned, my store building, this belonged to Chamber, the druggist. Chambers' other building in the south block, where his store was situated was also destroyed. He informed me that he intended to rebuild for himself on the site where my store had been, it being the best location. By the time my insurance claim had been adjusted and paid and I in turn had paid off my debts, I had re-established my credit, but had little cash left to think about starting up again. So I sold off what little stuff I had saved and eventually left Didsbury. Chambers, Alf Studer, J.V. Borsch, Bill Liesemer and others, who had been long established in Didsbury and much better off financially, started up business again and prospered along with the town.

What's happening in Alberta is good for everyone

What's happening out in Alberta these days? Plenty! New oil is being sought and found. Money's flowing faster. There's lots of activity, lots of opportunity, And as a result all Canadians are better off.

For instance, oil from Alberta's new wells is expected to save 68 million U.S. dollars this year! That's one of the big reasons for Canada's better trade position, one of the reasons we are able to buy more U.S. goods.

The new discoveries have meant lower cost operation in Alberta and Saskatchewan for farmer and industrialist, and this must ultimately benefit all of Canada.

Then, too, it takes a lot of money to find oil and lots more to develop a field once it's found. Two million dollars a week is being poured into oil exploration and development in Alberta today. That spending creates new markets for the things the rest of Canada has to sell.

And finally let's recall that in the war years—and after—we were dependent on foreign oil for roughly 90 per cent of our supplies. This year prairie production should exceed prairie demand. With continued effort and reasonable success it is not too much to hope the men who search for oil will make Canada self-sufficient in petroleum in years to come.

Everywhere in Alberta you hear about new oil discoveries—all the more because they followed the long years when nature baffled the oil seekers. Years when men drilled holes two miles deep and found only water. Years of million-dollar disappointments.

In 1947 the tide turned. First it was the Leduc field... then the Woodbend field... next Redwater... now, still untapped by time, other discoveries give new promise and the hope of still greater benefits for all Canadians.

IMPERIAL OIL LIMITED

If you're interested in facts...

Consumption of oil in Canada is the second highest in the world on a per capita basis. United States alone is higher. Canadians are using twice as much oil as in 1930 and more than three times as much as in 1912. At the beginning of 1949 Canada was importing 64 per cent of her oil. During 1948 Imperial Oil drilled a total of 136 wells in its search for oil, out in developing the new fields of Alberta.

The oil industry is spending more than $100 million in exploration and development in Alberta this year. Bringing you oil is a big job—and a costly one.

GOOD MARKET FOR ALFALFA SEED FOR EXPORT

More than ten million pounds of alfalfa seed have been exported from Canada in the six-month period from July 1 to December 31, 1948. This is considerably more than the total exports for the entire 12-month period from July 1, 1947, to June 30, 1948, and compares with less than two million pounds exported in the same 6-month period of 1947. Two factors are largely responsible for the phenomenal increase in export of alfalfa this season.

The United States production of alfalfa seed in 1948 was the smallest in a number of years, while production of this seed in Canada exceeded all previous records by several million pounds, with the latest figures placing the crop at more than sixteen million pounds. The American market is the main outlet for surplus Canadian alfalfa seed and the combination of these two factors has resulted in a very keen demand for this hardy northern grown seed at attractive prices and the movement of record amounts from growers' hands.

Canada has one of the longest coast lines in the world. The sea coast of the mainland totals 14,820 miles.
